
DEVELOPING A WALKING CULTURE
WALKING IN WHITEHORSE
FEB 15, PROTOTYPE
Legend: Lines
Wide yellow line is City of Whitehorse boundary
Thin red lines are power lines
Thin blue lines and blue areas are streams and wetlands
Medium black line is White Pass & Yukon Route rail line
Thick red lines are the motorized routes authorized by City ats and snowmobile by-laws
Cyan/turquoise lines are winter ski club trails requiring a paid WCSC pass. When crossing, don't stop in the tracks. Trail names are in cyan/turquoise. Free public use at other times of year.
Thin orange/ yellow lines are official city trails; however, they are only usable by ski club pass holders for snowshoeing or skiing in winter. Free public use at other times of year.
Chadburn Lake ski trails are free, community use: red, blue, green and yellow. Avoid walking in tracks.
Thick bluish-green lines are paved city trails or sidewalks. Most sidewalks are not marked.
Medium thick bluish-green lines are public right-of-ways in neighbourhoods.
Purple lines are trails to be developed or paved by the city. These purple trails are not necessarily routes at present; rather they are for the city and community groups to plan possible future paths, sidewalks.
Thick and thin green lines are public trails, both official city and others. Thick lines are sometimes official city trails mostly. I use them to highlight distance marking on busy trails. Trail names are in yellow.
Thick orange lines and text are places with opportunities for walking improvements.
